My creative work is based on a number of complementary activities.

As a textile designer, I have created an own collection of works, and I have designed for a number of – mostly European – companies as well.

I am curator at the Academy Schloss Solitude, Stuttgart.

Exhibition and event management and organization play a particularly important role in my life. Since 1987, I have organized and managed more than two-hundred exhibitions, events or series of events with Tamás Radnóti interior designer in for e.g. Gallery Eventuell (we based on 1994), furthermore we have organized much more comprehensive professional exhibitions such as the Textival for young hungarian textil and fashion designers (annually 1994-98), TEXHIBITION (annually since 2014) for textile designers from different countries and the “Design without borders” exhibitions, one of the most important designs event in the region, which based on “madeinhungary” – an exhibition introducing Hungarian designers, held annually from 2004, and since 2012, we have organised the MeeD (Meeting of European and Central European Designers) exhibitions, which focus on international designers and artists. For the first time, the “Design without borders” exhibitions is being organised as an international festival and as part of the Hungarian Festival Alliance and EFFE (Europe for Festivals, Festivals for Europe). Over the course of the twentythree years, we have worked together with some 7000 designers and artists.
